

HIS RESPONSES:

What would you say to a church or individual who was considering attending this retreat?

The experiences and tools you will glean through this retreat are invaluable and lifelong gifts. I highly recommend it!

What, specifically are some things that you liked about the retreat?

The specific, personalized, intentional 2-2 time with people who are invested emotionally & spiritually in our marriage

Is there anything that you would change?

I would not change a thing.

What about this retreat surprised you in a good way?

The level of hospitality, the serenity and beauty of the home, the delicious food!

What (if anything) about the retreat were challenging for you?

I faced the best type of challenge to freely receive all the generosity that was gifted to us throughout the trip.

What would you say about your hosts?

Phil and Vicky are genuine in their love for people and passionate in the divine calling to build resilient marriages. They carry the mother and father heart of God that will heal generations and rebuild ancient ruins. I love Phil's compassion and humor and so admire Vicky's gift of hospitality and attention to detail. They are both such gifts from the Lord!

What (if any) impact will this retreat have on your relationships? Your family? Your ministry?

This retreat has provided us with the tools and the way for us to get back on track when we falter. I can already see the way it will impact our parenting and our ministry as we implement and share with others the gold we have gained especially in the area of conflict resolution.

Other feedback?

Thank you, Jesus, for these beautiful people and this beautiful ministry!

HER RESPONSES:

What would you say to a church or an individual who was considering attending or hosting this retreat?

DO IT! It was life-changing!!!

What, specifically are some things that you liked about the retreat?

A time and space to be sheltered from the craziness of life and dig into, invest in ourselves and our marriage.

Is there anything that you would change?

Not that I can think of in the moment.

What about this retreat surprised you in a good way?

The hospitality. I felt so seen, considered, and loved.

What (if anything) about the retreat were challenging for you?

Honestly, nothing. I thought that digging into the emotional spaces would be a lot more challenging, but I felt such grace in the space and in the intentional presence/covering of Phil & Vicky.

What would you say about your hosts?

The best. We are so so so blessed. I love that they live and embody what they are walking us through.

What impact will this retreat have on your relationships? Your family? Your ministry?

I feel equipped to jump into conflict resolution with my wife. I'm excited to have a healthier marriage and exemplify more meaningful connection for the children... and the tools that we've received from this retreat is 100% going to enrich every marriage and relationship in our ministry.

Other feedback?

Just gratitude. We are walking away from this retreat with so much hope and anticipation for our future.
